Park Bond Issue Next April Predicted at Council Meet

A third bond issue to finance park and recreation development may be submitted to the voters in the municipal election next April.

This was disclosed during a discussion of a request by the North Torrance Civic Improvement Association that the city do something about improved park facilities.

Harry B. Van Bellehem, director of the Recreation Department, said that the Park and Recreation Commission is still studying plans for a long-range solution to the park shortage.

Councilmen were told that their recommendation will probably encompass a third try to pass a bond issue which was twice defeated in the last two years.

Mayor Albert Isen also advised civic groups to contact the Board of Education as well as the City Council on recreation

Scholarships to Be Awarded by Firm Executives

The National Supply Management Club will again sponsor its annual scholarship awards essay contest for graduating seniors of the Torrance Unified Schools.

The Management Club has voted duplicate $150 awards to the boy and girl selected, according to Harold Briggs, club president, and Lyle Freckleton, scholarship chairman.

At a recent meeting, representatives of the National Supply Management Club and High School principals, Dale Harter and Carl Ahee, set the date for the essay contest for April 3. The contest will be held at the students' respective schools.

The winning students become eligible to enter the Zone "A" National Management Association Scholarship Award Contest to be held May 22. The winning boy and girl of the Zone "A" contest will each receive a $250 award.
